MARS MYTHS

CENTRAL QUESTION

What are the stories we tell each other to create sense out of chaos?

MORNING

THE FIRST LAW

Investigate historical / religious rule systems (with help of ground control) and extract different kinds of rules:

- What not to do
- What to do
- What will happen
- Who gets to decide (when?)
- What happens when a rule is broken?
- Who legitimizes the rule?

AFTERNOON

A RELIGION FOR MARS

- What function does religion have in a society?
- What rituals are central to religious meaning-making?
- Which rituals, actions and objects are central for the survival of the community in the Habitat, and what could they become in a Mars religion?
- Invent rituals and myths (mythological justification for things & actions).

How could we ritualize everyday actions and mythologize them into an order in the Habitat?
Example: garbage receives a small ceremony / becomes a symbol as the guardian of waste; think about a translation from outside to inside making a small ritual action when you come inside from EVA

EVA

DOING RITUALS

Observe the marketplace and identify actions that may be important for the survival of the community:

- bakery / market: exchange, including human exchange
- town hall: community rules
- bench: place / meeting point
- church: existing rules, routines

QUESTION FOR THE COMMUNITY HOUR

What rituals do you follow in your everyday life?

Welche Rituale hast du in deinem täglichen Leben?

MATERIAL – WHAT DOES THIS NEED

paper / pen or laptop; photo paper; possibly craft materials, voice recorder
